Name of writer:
Name of editor:

Paper should be:
- 1 ½ - 3 pages in length.
- Organized, with a recognizable introduction, body paragraphs, and a conclusion.
- Written in chronological order.
- Focused, making a point about reading OR writing. (thesis)
- Descriptive, using imagery!

Read through the paper once for first impressions; then, look more closely at the paper, make editing suggestions on Google docs, AND answer the following questions:

1. Summarize what you take from the project to be the writer’s main attitude toward reading and/or writing.

2. Describe what you like most about the project you are reviewing:

3. Choose the sentence that contains the most vivid description of setting or character and copy that sentence here:

4. If the writer were to ADD anything else to the project or were to FOCUS on one area to revise, what would you suggest adding/revising: more description, more analysis, a stronger introduction or conclusion? Be as specific as you can.

5. Is there any place in the literacy narrative where the writer tends to wander off topic or loses the focus of the project? If so, highlight that part on their Google doc and make a comment.
